Figure 1: A schematic diagram of the proposed system architecture. The system is divided into three main components: User, Server, and Database. The User interacts with the Server via a Web Browser. The Server interacts with the Database via a REST API. The Database stores user information and transaction data. The Server also interacts with a Blockchain network via a REST API. The Blockchain network stores transaction data and provides a consensus mechanism. The Server also interacts with a Smart Contract via a REST API. The Smart Contract is a self-executing contract with the terms of the agreement between buyer and seller being directly written into lines of code. The Smart Contract is stored on the Blockchain network. The Server also interacts with a Payment Gateway via a REST API. The Payment Gateway is a service that facilitates the payment process between a merchant and a customer. The Payment Gateway is connected to the Blockchain network. The Server also interacts with a Payment Processor via a REST API. The Payment Processor is a service that processes payments from a merchant to a customer. The Payment Processor is connected to the Blockchain network. The Server also interacts with a Payment Gateway via a REST API. The Payment Gateway is a service that facilitates the payment process between a merchant and a customer. The Payment Gateway is connected to the Blockchain network.
